Brainware Signs $2.6 Million Contract with Global Diversified Energy Company

October 27, 2008, Ashburn, Virginia USA -- Brainware, Inc., the leading provider of intelligent data capture and enterprise search solutions, announced today that it has signed a $2.6 million follow-on contract with one of the world's largest providers of energy and petrochemicals. This private sector oil company is deploying Brainware Distiller as a front-end data capture solution in conjunction with its global ERP rollout. The Brainware Distiller solution will process millions of invoice pages per year from more than a hundred different countries through their shared services centers located across Europe and the U.S.

"We're seeing the demand for transformational technology like Brainware Distiller continue to grow," says Carl Mergele, Brainware's CEO. "Our customers are expanding their use of the Brainware Distiller solution across their enterprises because they recognize an opportunity to amplify and accelerate their return on investment. Distiller's unique ability to scale, not only in terms of volume, but also in terms of the variety of document types that can be supported by a single application, makes it an excellent platform for enterprise data capture and extraction."
